AMUSEMENTS.

Bishop's Colored Aggregation.

Bishop's Colored Aggregation opened a two nights and a matinee engagement at the Opera House last night and there was a good sized audience present. The drama

"After the War" was the play and the cast is made up entirely of colored people who have the real old plantation characteristics. The singing is the most prominent and enjoyable feature of the entertainment and it was of a most lively and melodious kind. The Magnolia Quartette was first called to the stage and sang some stirring melodies with good effect.

The dancing was also brisk and athletic and it was a breezy performance throughout. The entertainment concluded with a cake walk.

A matinee will be given to-day at 2:30 and children will be admitted to 15 cents and adults, 25 cents. The concluding presentation will be this evening.

Sacred Concert.

Bishop's Colored Aggregation will give a sacred concert at the Noronjega Sunday night and there will doubtless be a large attendance. There is much singing talent among them.

At City Hall.

The Daniels Specialty Company intend to remain next week. They have engaged some new talent and intend to give a first-class entertainment and spare no expense in pleasing their patrons. Amateur night last night was a success, some of our talent of both sexes showing their ability. A matinee will occur to-day at 2:30. Children will be admitted for five cents.

R., to march with the Post to the Central church the Sunday evening before Memorial Day upon the occasion of the memorial sermon by the pastor, Rev. E. B. Barry, and participate in the exercises.

The morning train from the east yesterday brought 100 provincials through the city bound westward. The travel that way still continues large but is slackening somewhat as the bulk of that line of travel is probably over. Thousands have passed through Bangor during the past few weeks and while they all go some thing of a mystery.

There was a rise of two inches in the river yesterday, it being occasioned by the rain of the day before. The lumbermen and mill owners watch the condition of the water in the river with much interest and it tells the state of affairs further up, the prospects of the drive, the amount of water for the mills, etc. It is an important matter for them.

The steamer Sedgwick left Bar Harbor Thursday morning on time, but when she got around to Southwest Harbor the wind was blowing so the sea was so high that the steamer was taken to Northeast Harbor and stayed there till yesterday morning. The entire press of Providence, R. I., speaks in terms of high praise of the recent concert given there April 28th by Miss Mary Woolfull Coombs, formerly of this city. It consisted of a historian's recital of old Italian songs by Miss Coombs and Mr. Wilhelm Heinrich, tenor and the manner in which they were rendered by both artists occasioned much comment of a favorable nature.

Capt. Shute of the Bangor and Bar Harbor line, reports that the steamer Menawa, which frequently comes to this port, was rendered a wreck by Thursday's gale. The vessel was lying near Hewes Point, Islesboro, at anchor, having a cargo of paving stones for New York. The heavy wind and sea drove her ashore and yesterday when the Sedgwick passed there, she was badly broken up and the cargo and hull will be a total loss. The spars, sails and rigging will probably be saved. The gale was one of the worst in the bay for years and caused a large amount of damage.

The advance sheets of the pilot charts of the north Atlantic ocean for May gives the appended forecast of the weather that may be expected at sea during the month.

Fair weather will prevail generally over the north Atlantic, with occasional northwesterly gales along the transatlantic steamship routes, north of the 40th parallel.

Northerns in the Gulf of Mexico will occur frequently and will not last long, but are liable to be of great violence. There will be a notable increase of fog off the Grand Banks and to the westward of the 60th meridian. The northwest trades will extend further to the northward.

Recovering his presence of mind and his feet at about the same self-same subdivision of an hour, Golden fell upon the ungrateful stranger to Bangor hospital where he had been admitted to the station. Golden died of heart failure to show the stranger the way thither and they shaped their course for the Columbia street inn. When they had gotten as far as A. H. Roberts & Son's store the sad-eyed secker-for-shelter appeared to be struck with a strange and unaccountable hallucination that Golden was an officer and after a remark to the effect that he couldn't arrest him, "bliffed" Golden so quickly and scientifically that for the nonce his reason tottered on its throne and his body on its supports.
